THE "OTTAWA SPOTLIGHT"

(Weekly Review of National Affairs)
By M. McDOUGALL

Ottawa, March 6th— There has been lively and, on occasions, bitter debate in the house of commons during the past week. The subjects discussed have been wide in scope, some of them striking at the root of the most urgent problems of this critical hour. The question of creating a national government in Canada has for the time being at least been definitely shevled. The minister of justice, Ernest Lapointe, as spokesman for the government, was firmly opposed to the idea. The present administration, he declared, had been chosen by the peoples as the government they wanted during the war. This is not a pre-war parliament, he said. Its policies have been squarely submitted to the people during the war, and these policies have been endorsed. The people of Canada had shown at the polls that they did not want a national government. "My Province" he said "is unanimously opposed to that proposal. The mere mention of it arouses such memories that it is really a crime to mention the word".

Howe Answers Critics

There were sharp exchanges across the floor of the house when the minister of munitions and supply, C. D. Howe answered criticisms that have been directed against his department in parliament and in sections of the press. Referring to one press statement that the department was "cumbrous" and overburdened "to the breaking point," he said that it was never more alive than now, and that it was kept alive by the constant infusion of new blood. Recently several new executives had been added to its strength. He agreed that in some lines of production, the output was below expectations. Of ten major divisions of war industry, seven were either abreastor ahead of schedule, while three were not in such a satisfactory state. The seven industrial divisions which had developed in line with expectations were, the supply of personal equipment for the armed forces, the construction industry, shipbuilding mechanical transport manufacture, chemicals and explosives, sheels, and component parts of shells, and the production of steel and alloy.

Production of Aircraft

The aircraft industry hadn ot been so satisfactorily situated. Mr. Howe pointed out that shell manufacture for example had been carried out on a large scale during the last war by Canadian companies, many of which were able to start out again without much trouble. Aircraft manufacture on the other hand was an embryonic state in Canada at the beginning of this war. When France collapsed, the British government advised that Canda must postpone the delivery of planes for the joint training scheme. They needed all their planes at home. Canda had to swing into production of advanced trainers, and purchases in the meantime had to be made in the United States. The production of these Avro Ansons, is now well advanced in Canadian factories. The magnitude of the task had not been appreciated. The general impression given by the minister of the aircraft industry in this country —and he went into details of output, of each large factory— is that while there has been delay, difficulties are being surmounted and production is getting well under way. The manufacture of tanks in Canda has encountered difficulties in designing, and in the assembling of parts, but this work is in competent hands and it will not be long before Canadian factories are producing both infantry and cruiser tanks, those powerful and essential instruments of modern war.

Defence of Canada Regulations

The leader of the C.C.F. party, Mr. M. J. Coldwell, complained that under the Defence of Canada Regulations, in their present form and as now administered "many elementary democratic rights of Canadian citizens are jeopardized". He insisted that every accused person, organization and paper should have the right of being heard by an impartial and competent tribunal. The minister of justice, Ernest Lapointe, replied to this that a committee of the house had surveyed and amended the defence regulations and a new committee would again examine them. As the minister of justice it was his duty to apply the regulations and he would do so fearlessly but also with circumspection. The country was at war, and the regulations were necessary for protection. If the airmen, sailors and soldiers of Canada were facing death without complaint, parliament and the government should, through the enforcement of the regulations, prevent communists and others from stabbing the defence forces in the back.

St. Lawrence Waterway

The progress of negotiations on the St. Lawrence seaway project has been explained to the house by Prime Minister Mackenzie King. If this project had not an immediate bearing on the war, it would not be a question before parliament, he told the house. "I agree altogether with the view expressed here (by members of both sides of the house) that the St. Lawrence waterway development as a project in time of war can be justified only on the basis of war necessity". The Dominion government had been carrying on negotiations with the provincial governments of Ontario and Quebec, and when these were concluded, the draft agreement with the United States would again be considered and he hoped for an early conclusion of the negotiations. It was mentioned during the debate that dams would have to be constructed to limit flood damage from the power installations at the international section of the river.

o:—

Bill— How long have you been working for your present boss?

Jack— Ever since he threatened to fire me.

GOD GRANT US PEACE

The tide of peace recedes
From sun-washed coasts across the world,
The storm fiend's banners
In the leaden clouds have been unfurled,
And empires toil amid the gloom
To stay the curse of war—of doom.

Again man's blinding rage
And towering pride of power decrees
That blood and woe submerge
The helpless race; the weary prophet sees
The tyrant stalk once more untamed,
Despite our widows, orphans, maimed.

God of all Justice and of Peace,
Thy hand against this horror raise in might;
Save us from war, its bitterness,
Its reckless ruin, crime; defend our right!
Trustful we cry to Thee for aid,
For we the price of peace have paid.

Red strife 'gainst race or creed,
Man against man or breed is not Thy plan—
Return the peace tide in again
To wash the storm-stained shores that span
The world. May troublers cease,
Their plots to rob the earth of peace,
And justice, righteousness and rest
In every land be manifest.

Weddings

KEER — SPENCE

Red carnations, white narcissi and blue iris made a patriotic setting in St, Stephen's Church on Saturday for the ceremony in which Murielle, only daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert Spence, became the bride of Mr. Geoffrey C. Keer of the headquarters staff at Currie barracks, third son of Mrs. Keer and the late W. E. Keer of Cheadle.

Alternating red, white and blue ribbon bows also marked the pews, to which the guests were ushered by Mr. A. Mathew and Mr. S. N. Browne. Rev. anon W. E. Jackson read the marriage service, beginning at 7 o'clock, and Mr. Thomas Jenkins presided at the organ. During the signing of the register, Miss Deirdre Hughes sang "God Has Made Two Hearts as One."

Mr. Spence gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown of freesia white ninon was made with a yoke of eyelet embroidery, and was girdled at the waist with braided ivory satin. Her embroidered chapel veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried pale pink roses roses and violets, in a shower arrangement.

Miss Jean Cameron, cousin of the bride, was bridemaid, wearing a frock of petal pink net moulded at the waistline, and made with a shoulder yoke and sleeves of matching lace. A pink flowered hat and pink lace gloves completed her ensemble. She carried pink carnations.

Mr Ian Keer, R.C.A.F., brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Following the ceremony, 75 guests were bidden to a reception at the home of Mr and Mrs Hugh C. Farthing, where the decorations carried out the patriotic theme used in the church.

Red, white and blue flowers and matching tapers were used on the table and tiny silk flags topped the three tiered wedding cake.

Receiving, Mrs Spence, mother of the bride, was in an Alfandri model of shadow rose crepe trimmed with gold beaded coin spots. Her small black hat was brightened with rose-colored flowers, and she wore cream colored roses en corsage.

Mrs Keer, mother of the bridegroom, was in black velvet, with a matching hat. Her corsage was of red roses and violets.

Mrs Farthing had chosen a distinctive black gown, with floral accent of roses and violets..

Cpl. R. McIntyre, R.C.A.F., proposed the toast to the King, and Mr Farthing the toast to the bride.

Mrs Ross Henderson and Mrs Donald Greenwood poured tea and coffee, and those assisting in serving were Mrs Eric Lowick, Mrs A. Matthew, Mrs S. N. Browne, Miss Jessie Cameron, Miss Mary Farrell, Miss Ethel Ethridge, Miss Margaret Scott, Miss Betty Scott and Miss Theresa Vidal.

Mr and Mrs Keer are spending their honeymoon in Vancouver and Victoria. For travelling, the bride wore a navy blue fitted coat, trimmed with white, a large navy blue hat, and accessories to tone.

The groom is a member of a highly respected pioneer family of Cheadle.

Best wishes are extended for a very happy life together.

Bridal Shower

A very pleasant evening was spent in Nightingale hall Wednesday, last to honor Mr and Mrs Tom Taylor (nee Miss Audrey Thurston).

Many friends of the bride and bridegroom enjoyed the evening dancing to music provided by Mr and Mrs W. Mercer.

After lunch Mr Weldon Harriman, on behalf of the community, presented the young couple with many lovely gifts and good wishes from every one.

Mr and Mrs Taylor replied thanking their many friends for the gifts and invited them all to visit them in their new home, north of Strathmore.

PROGRAMME OF HIGH CALIBRE

EXCELLENT CONCERT GIVEN BY UNITED CHURCH CHOIR

Strathmore has established a reputation for musical entertainments of a high order, and this standard was well maintained when the Choir of United Church presented their programme Tuesday evening.

The entire concert, music, pictures and readings filled a couple of delightful hours, teh pity is there was not a larger number present to enjoy it. The worth of the concert merited a capacity audience.

In the Male Chorus, Ladies Chorus, and Combined Choir, the voices blended beautifully and there was perfect harmony in time and tune.

The expression necessary to the various types of song was well brought out.

The Duet, by Mrs Hughes and Mrs Mercer was delightfully rendered their voices blending in perfect harmony.

Mrs Mercer's solos were gems in expression and tone.

The Lancashire Readings by Miss Bessie Oldham, were amusing from a dialect point of view, and each one had its special point which Bessie ably put over.

The piano duet by Iola Cleeve and Frances Jones was brightly rendered and received hearty applause, as did all the numbers.

The Anthem "How Long Wilt Thou Forget Me?",was an exquisite number sung in sympathetic voice by all.

We have heard choirs of 70 and 80 voices sing this but never with more understanding expression.

Miss Georgia Chapman was pianist throughout.

To the Choir Leader, Mrs S. R. Hunt very high tribute is paid for the artistic result produced in Tuesday evening's Concert.

Rev. S. R. Hunt was Chairman.

Choir members include— Mesdames Hunt, Nicholl, Hughes, Mercer, Hirtle and Misses J. McGregor, B. Oldham, Gwen Hunt, Frances Gray, Frances Jones and Florence McBean.

Messrs D. A. Perry, Oldham, Dr. Giffen, M. S. Hirtle, Harold Hunt, L. Downey, Billy Julian, Blaine Chapman and Mr Hunt.

Beautiful Slides—

Previous to and during intermission to the Concert a large number of slides in color were shown on the screen with Mr Ian McKenzie in control at the lantern. Pictures of English scenes were shown which would bring back happy memories to any person present from the Old Land.

During intermission colored slides of majestic peaks in the Rockies, the beautiful Lakes of Louise, Emerald, Moraine, etc., the travellogue including outstanding points of interest in Vancouver and Victoria.

Another set showed th elife of Tom Wilson, pioneer explorer in the Rockies, and the first white man to see Lake Louise.

Mr MacKenzie was tendered the thanks of the audience for his kindness in operating the lantern.

Dr and Mrs Giffen entertained the choir and other assistants, with their friends at the home of Rev. and Mrs Hunt owing to an outbreak of measles in the Doctor's home. A happy social evening was enjoyed after the weeks of arduous training.

The programme was as follows— Pictures of Somerset.

Mr Pete Kilner who has been quite sick for teh past week, is now feeling a little better, for which we are very glad. We hope he continues to improve.

The smile on his chubby face was proof enough for the thirty guests who on Saturday evening surprised T. J. Koch on his 75th birthday. The time soon passed with games, songs and good things to eat. Pot Pourri

He goes with his dreams
Through the dingy city square,
Purple and silver-winged
They go with him everywhere.

The quarreling hags at the windows
Have voices unkind, unsweet
But his dreams have silver voices
And starrily-slippered feet;

The workmen push on the pavement
And laugh and curse as they go,
But he is far with his dreams,
On a road they do not know.

He walks far off with his dreams
That whisper and sing beside,
And his face is glad and still
And his eyes are burning wide.

He goes out with his dreams
To a golden wonder place
With the light of God in his eyes
And the peace of God in his face.

CANADIAN WAR SERVICE FUND

NEW APPEAL

Six organizations— viz. The Canadian Legion, The Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., and I.O.D.E. have combined to make one united drive for funds under the name of The Canadian War Service Fund.

The objective is $5,500,000.

The plan for the combined drive is a wise one. There is no likelihood that Canadians will let down their boys at the front or in any part of Canada or elsewhere.

When the Canvasser for these joint groups calls on you give generously all you can, he is asking aid for the well being of our soldiers, sailors and airmen. The boys in uniform rely on the folks back home. We must not let them down.

TOWN COUNCIL

At the first meeting of the Town Council in this year's regular group, there was such a long agenda that a good deal of it had to be left over until the next meeting, and even then, it was Wednesday morning before the councillors arrived home.

From the minuets of the last meeting, it was revealed that Council has made a grant of twenty-five dollars to the School Fair. Councillor Risdon was granted a three months leave of absence, and Councillor Quirin was appointed deputy mayor. A new amendment to the dog by-law was passed.

On Tuesday, the appointment of committees for the ensuing year came up, and appointments are as follows— Public Works— Billy Woodliffe and Mr Miner; Finance, Legislation and Health— Messrs Gantz and Quirin; Town Property and Cemetery— Gannon and Spellman; Fire and Light— Councillors Quirin and Risdon.

The ground floor of the Massey-Harris building was granted to L. A. Phillips on a six months lease, and the ground floor of the Chase Building was granted to the Red Cross.

A new by-law on parking is being drawn up, and will be drafted probably at the next meeting. It is hoped to get drivers accustomed to the new provisions before the big rush of cars in the spring seeding season. Council approved the idea also, of having the utility man paint the two sides of Main Street, in yellow, 15 feet in from the corner, for "no parking", and at proper intervals from there on down to paint guides at a 45 degree angle. Especially for strangers in town, it was felt that this would be a help, giving them some idea of what system was used.

By-law number 211, covering the provisions for tax consolidation was passed for theyear 1941. In view of several of the Red Wings being of school age, it was suggested that the rates, which formerly classed them all as adult be dropped slightly. After certain discussion, it was decided to give them a flat rate of $25.00 plus of course, the customary five per cent of gate.

Representing the Calgary Power Company, Mr Smith and Mr Easton attended the meeting with new proposals for the motted change in rates. Explaining it, Mr Smith stated that instead of the present graded rate, and service charge, the company proposed to make a flat rate of $2.50 for the first twenty kilowatt hours, and two cents per kwt. over. This would cost six cents more than the present rate for anyone using 21 kwts. and two cents less for 22. On either side of this line, naturally, it would cost more or less than at present proportion. Asked what advantages Calgary Power derived from the change, Mr Smith stated that it would simplify the billing system beyond belief, and that also, they hoped to increase consumption. This change applies only to the domestic, or household rate. Mr Smith brought with him figures covering the case of each user in town, showing what difference it would make to their account on the basis of last year's account. These figures are at present in the office of the town secretary. Roughly, he figured, about 30 per cent of the users would have higher rates, amounting to something like two hundred dollars in a year, and the other 70 per cent, would benefit by about 7 to 8 hundred dollars. He explained that the former suggestion of allowing a rebate to those whose bill had been increased had been declared illegal by the Minister. The suggestion is being left over at any rate, until ieh next meeting.

It was decided to have the sidewalks cleaned of snow again. Appointment of auditors for the ensuing year was granted to Erawell and Katterhagen. Grants will not be increased this year, it was decided, but they may be reallocated.

NAMAKA

The Namaka Red Cross Society met at the home of Mrs Aitkens on the 27th. Plans were discussed for a bazaar in the spring. A box of socks, sweaters and two way mitts were sent to head quarters in algary. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs Loy Wheeler.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strange
Director— The Crop Testing Plan

At the start of this present crop season, it was apparent there would not be sufficient space in country elevators to take the farmers' wheat at the speed at which, in past years, it had been hauled to markets; and so it was necessary that the flow of grain to country elevators should be slowed down somewhat, at least during the early part of the delivery season.

The Canadian Wheat Board was given the task—in addition to its usual duties—of guiding the flow of wheat from farms to country points to accord with the space in country elevators as it became available. This was done by allotting quotas to the farmers in each district. During the first six months two-thirds of the crop has been guided by the Wheat Board in this fashion.

The work was difficult and complicated, for it involved guiding not only the wheat from the farms, but in addition the wheat from country elevators to terminals. It also necessitated the suitable distribution of railway cars.

It has all been well done, and with an astonishing small number of complaints, and so it seems to me that our Wheat Board is entitled to hearty congratulations fo performing this exceedingly difficult and complicated task to the satisfaction of all.

THE HEALTH UNIT AGAIN

The Standard has repeatedly urged the benefit of establishing a Health Unit for this section of Alberta, which would include the Municipalities of Grasswold, Shepard, Blackfoot, Bow Valley, Beddington, Keoma and Springbank.

A meeting was held last August at which these M. D.'s were representec and were strongly in favor.

Since August it appears some of the districts have fallen by the wayside, and decided that the cost was too heavy. If these same districts would realize that the increased tax would be very small, and compared with the benefit derived in improved health for the growing generation the cost is trifling, they would be well repaid.

The following is strong endorsation.

SERVICEABLE HEALTH UNIT
Lacombe Globe

As time moves along at the mile-a-minute pace to which the present generation has become accustomed, the average resident of Central Alberta is quite apt to forget the splendid services which are being given by the Red Deer Full-Time Health Unit. However, the annual report of that organization, which has just been issued, is a reminder that the humanitarian efforts of this efficient medical unit are being carried on with increased vigor. Dr L. A. McLean and his staff of nurses have compiled a complete outline of their work during the past year, and all those who believe in giving credit where credit is due will realize that they have presented nother genuine record of progress.

During the past year, the unit has visited every school in the district as often as possible for the purpose of giving examinations for diseases of every type. Children suffering from any disease or infection have been quarantined as a protection for other pupils, and in this manner threatened epidemics have been halted before any serious results have occurred. The pupils have also been educated in habits of cleanliness and sanitation which are bound to have good effects over the years.

Adult clinices—which were unknown in bygone days—have become a regular service with the Health Unit. At these clinics tuberculosis tests are given regularly to all those who have reason to believe that they may be afflicted with this or other diseases. Lectures have been arranged from time to time in an endeavor to acquaint the average resident with the progress which has been made with teh treatment of cancer, diabetes and other maladies which have plagued the human race since Time began.

The mere fact that such services are rendered by the Red Deer Health Unit in towns, villages, hamlets and even he smallest of the little red schoolhouses in Central Alberta is just one more indication that the world is moving forward at a rapid pace. However, despite the speed of today's events there is still time to recognize the worth of our fine Health Unit by extending our heartiest congratulations to Dr McLean and his assistants for their continued efforts in behalf of better health in Central Alberta.

WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP CURLING

The championship matches for the "World's Title" held in the Curling Rink on Wednesday night, proved un usually exciting and tense games, as the Title was won and lost in a period of something like four and a half hours. Champion Curler No. 1 A. D. Shrimpton, playing Champion No. 2 Spence Hughes, put up a good game until about the end of the fifth end, when the two skips changed tams, and apparently, changed luck also. Whether the tams were worn by theskips had anything to do with their ultim ate scores or not, it is nevertheless indisputable that many of the stones were played not for teh broom, but for the far more brightly colored tam, and if the rock missed, the player could claim that he was dazzled. The game was close all through, and when Champ No. 2 laid in the 9th end to bring the score tied 6-6 on the way home. With a real bonspiel shot, Champ Spence, in a burst of unrivaled skill cleared his opponents shot rock from teh house, and himself laid five, at the same time, taking with it the Crown for World's Championship. In about half an hour, the established champions took on a new contender for the title, World's Champ. No. 3 Jim Swanson.

Playing brilliantly, the two teams fought hard all the way, The game was waived in teh 8th end, Swanson leading 13-7, leaving him undisputed 'champion of the world". Of his second tilt, teh losing Champ has nothing to say, but in an interview while he was still Champ, he discounted his victory as of little account, "Since we had such little opposition, that it was a mere walk-away."

The sponsors of the tilt, wish to thank those who supported them in their efforts to help the Red Cross. On examining the box for admission afterwards, it was found to contain $5.36, and they were greatly pleased and surprised on finding that one interested spectator had so enjoyed the program that he left a dollar bill.

Hockey

ARROWWOOD TAKES FIRST GAME FINALS

In the first game of a home and home series in the finals of the Juniors League, the Arrowwood team playing here on Wednesday night beat the home team out, 3-2. It was a hotly contested game throughout, and the next game, on Monday night should be a dandy. The ice was in admirable shape, with holes all over, and a regular ditch t the two blue lines, over which it was practically necessary to step. Many times players carrying teh puck, in a wild rush for thegoal, sprawled when they tripped on this ice. It was a lucky break that there were no broken ankles, although one player did twist his ankle severely.

Scoring opened early in the first period, when Koch broke through and flipped in a neat counter. In the closing minutes of the first period, Billy Brown took a pass from Pete Brown to even the score. Strathm rs had a decided edge during this period, keeping the puck in far ice nearly all the period. Arrowwood not only held their ground in the second but increased it a 2-1 lead. Koch took a pass from Kimmett half way through the third, and tied up the game, but shortly after earned a penalty. Arrowwood was playing a hard offensive all through this period, and backing it up with good defensive play, and it seemed as though they were about to stage a comeback. They did. Late in the period, a puck slipped past Hagen to bring the visitors out in front.

DUTIES OF CURLERS

Duties of the various members of a curling rink are outlined below. These are published so that members will know just what their duties are when they tie up with some of the skips of the local club.

The Lead—A Lowly Person—This is a very lowly person who throws the first pair of rocks. He is supposed to thank the Deity once a day in his prayers that he even exists, let alone being allowed to play at bonspiel time. He always addresses the skip as "Sir" and the third man as "Mr." This lead person is expected to see that the four pairs of rocks belonging to his rink are on teh ice and cleaned five minutes before te game starts. He must do no less than 75 per cent of the sweeping; he is expected to keep the skip fully supplied with cigarettes. His curling must be perfect or he is blamed for the loss of the games if his rink suffers defeat. He may tell the second man what he thinks about the skip, but no one else. After many years of curling he becomes a skip if he survives the sarcasm of his associates.

The Second Player— "Mere Man" —This person is but a degree removed from the lead. He is expected to do 15 per cent of the sweeping. He also, as the lead, is expecte to keep the skip supplied with cigarettes and the third man with matches. He must on all occasions get the rock he is to pick out, otherwise he is blamed for loss of games.

The Third Player—A Gentleman— This gentleman is in a class by himself always. He could skip the rink, in fact he always could skip it far better than the skip doing the job now. He assumes an air of superiority over all leads and seconds and of mere condescension to his skip. He does the remaining 10 per cent of the sweeping. He holds the broom for the skip to shoot, and invariably tells the skip that he should have tried the shot he, the third man, had chosen, and not the one he, the skip had just missed.

The Skip— The Ideal Curler—He is a gentlemanly sportsman who gets up the rink, often sacrificing valuable time to the interest and entertainment of three other curlers who wish to play in teh bonspiel. He does none of the sweeping, he merely holds the broom and his own temper, while the rest of the rink miss the one and strain the other. He has to knock out shots when he can only see an eyebrow. He must draw to the button, making it by just eighths of inches. He must play a runner shot and a draw the next. He must take out four rocks with one shot and then lay on the button and generally make himself useful, knowing that if he loses he alone bears the blame. He must have the patience of Job and the aggressiveness of Napoleon, and must never complain or he will be classed as a poor sport.

BOOK REVIEW
"COME WIND COME WEATHER"
By Daphne du Maurier
THE BRITAIN BEHIND THE LINES

Available this week in a special Canadian edition containing "A Word to Canada" from the author, this best seller of the war in Britain (over 500,000 copies already sold) brings to Canadians at this time the cure for war-frayed nerves and lessons on how to producce a spirit of willing sacrifice.

Turning from the romance and fiction of her prize-winning novel, "Rebecca", Miss du Maurier has produced what the British press has called "a handbook on morale" in which she gives us glimpses into the hearts and homes of Britons under fire.

"When we say that we are ready to fight for freedom," she asks, 'shall we mean by this that we would fight for the old way of living. The complacent gcas-you-please attitude to our neighbors, the what do I get out of it outlook upon work and play, trade and profession? Or will freedom mean teh unshackling of old habits and worn deeds, freedom from anxiety, selfishness and evil-thinking, freedom of understanding between men and nations? One word for two meanings — and the future of mankind will depend upon our interpretation."

The paper was one written by Frank Van Tighem on the Automotive Industry in Canada. Mrs Joel was presented with half a dozen silver teaspoons in honor of her Silver Wedding Anniversary and the presentation on behalf of the members was made by Mrs Larsen, with best wishes for many years of happiness. A delicious unch was served at the close of the meeting. On March 13th Mesdames W. Mercer and A. Mercer will be hostesses. At this meeting the roll call will be a St. Patrick's Day joke or verse.
